What's New In?

Help Desk may seem like a small, useless app, but it can be very useful, and have the ability to save your day! Full Description: Help Desk is a FREE offline word processor which allows you to get right to work without internet. No more waiting for your computer to search the web for the latest word processing tools. Help Desk has more than 18,000 registered users and counting! Highlights: • 1000+ Popular Word Processing Tools - Mentioned here are just some of the many tools available in Help Desk. If you know a tool you would like to see in Help Desk, please let us know! • Drag and Drop Add-Ins - The list of add-ins are generated as you add and edit files. If you add an add-in, it will show up in the tool's sidebar. • Spreadsheet Add-In - Help Desk will import a spreadsheet document and make it available as a new 'table' with add-ins. • Special Auto Fill Features - The special auto fill features are not available in most other word processors, because most people do not need to fill out forms or letters, but they may need to enter data from a form that already exists in their computer. • Built in Dictionary - Help Desk has a built-in dictionary that is stored on your computer. It will open the definition whenever you use a word, which makes the word search a lot easier. • Built in Thesaurus - Help Desk has a built in thesaurus. You can check both words and phrases that are suggested by the thesaurus. • Printing Features - Help Desk has many features that make printing, faxing, and photocopying easier. • Headings - All the headings in a document are generated for you when you open the file, and can be turned on and off for individual sections in the document. • Paragraph Symbols - There are many different symbols available for formatting your text. • Cross Reference Table - When you enter a word, all the words that are related to it will pop up in a cross reference table. • Extra Words - Help Desk has many different word processors that can be added as plug-ins. Each word processor is available for all platforms. • Customization - Help Desk will open a dialog box, and let you customize the controls to match your style. • Save Search - Help Desk will save a search for all the add-ins, and will put the name of the add-in in front of the results that you search for. If you change the name of an add-in, it will be updated in your search results. • Multiline Header - Help Desk has special features to make headers and footers multi-line. • WYSIWYG Editing - Help Desk is a WYSIWYG editor, which means that it has the ability to edit the
